Once again there was a birthday, Henry turned 13! He received a range of gifts from Gucci socks to Montblanc and money to cars, he had loads of things he especially liked his Montblanc bag from Louise and Chris. He was very grateful and loves all his presents. Later, in the evening Henry, Harriet, Louise, and Chris watched a movie on the projector in the garden. First the play room was a star wars themed cinema with light sabres (strawberry laces) Hans rolo (rolo's) Ewok snacks (pick and mix) and Yoda

Soda (water), then in the dining room it was Harry potter themed with floating candles (electronic candles dangling from the ceiling) and golden snitches (Ferrero Rocher with wings stuck on them).

Then the lounge was fast and the furious (car racing themed) they even had a photo booth set up. They used Chris's old polaroid camera to take the pictures using race props that Louise and Harriet had made, Henry's favourite was the Helmet. Henry's birthday cake was superb, it had a rainbow on the inside and indoor firework on top.

Film Night

Once it was dark enough, they had a cinema night in the garden. They watched gangster granny (Henry had selected le mans 66 but they couldn't get it to play on Netflix). They had popcorn and glow sticks.

A few nights later they watched Le mans 66, Henry really enjoyed that. But watching a film in the garden projected on to a tablecloth was super cool. Henry Chris and Louise thought it was better watching Le mans 66 inside because parts of the movie are scary so Harriet may not have liked it.

Sports update!

Henry and Harriet are still doing multiple bike rides sadly they have been cut short recently due to rain and one-time Harriet fell off which brought an end to that, Harriet was ok and only had a graze.

In the Arts!

Henry and Harriet separately made model 'H's Henry made one with loads of stickers from Goodwood and Harriet had some stick-on pearls which she put on her 'H'

Harriet also did a record-breaking drawing class with 45,611 people! "Rob Biddulph on the 21 May 2020 largest ever online art lesson". Harriet also took part in an on-line dance lesson with her Friend Ellen and about 20 other children. It was rather cool as the dance teacher is one of the performers from Matilda on stage in London.

Harriet has also been busy applying for Blue Peter badges, so watch this space (we will let you know if she gets any!)

From the kitchen

Henry and Chris have also taken on the Italian super once a week. Last week they made sea bass with samphire and luxury carbonara it was reported to be delicious, so there is a different Italian mail on the way next week. Mum decided to take on the bake-off challenge with Duncan the head chef from Leigh park hotel, they had to make 4 different sandwiches, 3 cakes and 2 different scones.

Henry's favourite thing that Louise made was the Battenberg, but Louise's chocolate cake was to die for. It was judged anonymously and guess what? Louise won!

This week Pam and Duncan's mum (Edwina) took on the baking challenge, the smoked salmon sandwiches were amazing! Box B can definitely make my packed lunch when I go back to school!

Henry has also started to make my Monopoly, it comes with the board but you can name all the roads and do your own chance cards, he is having it race related so he named each road after a race track from M4 karting to Silverstone not forgetting Goodwood, it is tricky to get everything the right size to print but it will be great I when its finished.

School news

Henry hit 300 positive points this week at school which is gold level! Henry said I'm very pleased with that! Still lots of work coming through! Henry received a letter from the Head teacher congratulating him!
